APPLICATION FORM	(1-3)

1. WHO SHOULD APPLY?

The Trade Equivalency Assessment process is for experienced tradespeople who have not completed an Ontario apprenticeship but have equivalent qualifications and experience in a trade, and who want to become eligible to challenge the certification examination to obtain an Ontario Certificate of Qualification (C of Q) and/or become a member of the College.

To be approved, you must demonstrate that you have practical skills and experience that is required to complete an apprenticeship in Ontario.

You should not apply for a Trade Equivalency Assessment if:

- You hold an Ontario Certificate of Apprenticeship (C of A) indicating you have completed an Ontario apprenticeship for the same trade. You may apply to attempt the certification examination for your trade or apply directly for College membership.
- You hold a C of Q or other authorizing certificate issued by another Canadian province or territory in the same trade. You may apply directly for a C of Q and College membership.
- You are not able to provide sufficient proof that you meet the requirements as described in this guide. You may consider becoming registered as an apprentice.

Important information about apprenticeship:

Please note that some apprentices receive “advanced standing” in their apprenticeship—beginning with hours and skills already credited towards completion. During the registration process, Ministry of Labour, Training and Skills Development (MLTSD) staff will conduct a prior learning assessment and you may be able to get credit for your trade experience and skills recognized by your sponsor.

There are many benefits to apprenticeship, including on-the-job training with an Ontario sponsor, government-paid technical training, financial grants and tax deductions, and employer tax credits.

To become an apprentice, you must first find a sponsor who will train you as an apprentice, and then you and your sponsor must register a training agreement with the MLTSD. To learn more about apprenticeship, please visit: ontario.ca/page/start-apprenticeship.

Note to active apprentices:

If you currently a registered apprentice in Ontario or other Canadian jurisdiction and are considering this process, please be aware that there is no guarantee that your Trade Equivalency Assessment application will be approved, and for certain trades, this may affect your ability to legally work in the trade.

If you are an apprentice from another Canadian jurisdiction and wish to continue your apprenticeship in Ontario, the training and work experience you complete in Ontario will count towards completion of your apprenticeship. However, you should contact the apprenticeship authority in your home jurisdiction and Ontario’s MLTSD to ensure you are properly registered in both jurisdictions.

To contact a MLTSD Apprenticeship Office, visit: ontario.ca/page/employment-ontario-apprenticeship-offices

2. REQUIREMENTS

Trade Equivalency Assessment applicants are held to the same on-the-job training standard that is required to complete an apprenticeship in Ontario, including providing verifiable documentation and other evidence to demonstrate the competency in the full scope of the trade and the required experience.

To be approved, you must provide sufficient and verifiable evidence that you have:

- Competency in the trade’s skills, as defined by the trade’s Training Standard; and
- Experience in the trade that is at least equal to the prescribed or recommended total training time (including on-the-job and in-school hours), and

To find out what the requirements are for your trade, download the trade’s Training Standard (or Schedule of Training), available online at collegeoftrades.ca/training-standards.

2.1 Evidence Requirements

To be approved under this process you must submit the following evidence of your trade skills and experience—which varies depending on the nature of your trade experience:

2.1.1 Employment experience

- Attestation letter(s) written by past or present employer(s) confirming your trade experience, with each letter including:
 - Company name, address and phone number;
 - Details for each position and/or project worked, including:
 - Start and end date
 - Total number of hours of worked
 - Detailed description of the tasks performed with specific examples;
 - Signed and dated by the employer or representative who can confirm the information in the letter (including the person’s name, job title and email and phone number).

Letters may be written by your employer or a representative (e.g. a manager or supervisor) but whoever writes a letter should have first-hand knowledge of the facts of your work experience and have personally witnessed you competently perform the tasks they describe in their letter.

2.1.2 Self-employment experience

- Detailed resume of previous trade experience, including:
 - Names and contact information of contractors and/or customers;
 - Details for trade experience, including:
 - Start and end dates for each job or project worked
 - Total number of hours of worked
 - Detailed description of the tasks performed with specific examples;
 - Supporting documents that that prove your business’ existence (e.g. business number) and show the type of work performed (e.g. contracts, customer and supplier invoices).

2.1.3 Canadian military trade qualification holders

- Canadian Forces Certificate of Military Achievement with a Qualification Level 5 (QL5) or Developmental Period 2 (DP2) rating in one of nine matched trades:
 - Construction Technician
 - Cook
 - Electrical Distribution Technician
 - Electrical Technician
 - Marine Engineering Technician
 - Materials Technician
 - Plumbing and Heating Technician
 - Refrigeration and Mechanical Technician
 - Vehicle Technician

You must provide your Canadian Forces trade qualification information and Service Number on the application form. The College will then request and receive a copy of your Member's Personnel Record Resume (MPRR) directly from the Department of National Defence (DND). For a list of trade matches, visit the Veterans page of the College's website.

2.1.4 Refugees, refugee claimants, and other exceptional cases

If it can be verified that you cannot obtain evidence of work experience and demonstrated skills in your trade for reasons beyond your control—such as with refugees, refugee claimants, or immigrants to Canada from war-torn or natural-disaster-affected regions—you may provide alternate/additional documentation as evidence of your qualifications and experience, including:

- Detailed resume of previous experience, including:
 - Names and contact information of contractors, employers, and/or customers;
 - Details for each position worked, including:
 - Start and end date
 - Total number of hours of worked
 - Detailed description of the tasks performed and the context of the scope of work;
- Any available documents or information that helps prove your skills/experience;
- Written explanation of the reason(s) that evidence of skills/experience cannot be provided;
- Confirmation of status from a recognized issuing authority including: Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada, Canada Border Security Agency, Canada's Immigration and Refugee Board, or United Nations Security Council (if applicable).

2.2 Requirements for all trades

- Evidence must be verifiable and authentic – it is your responsibility to provide evidence that is verifiable by the College. Your application will not be approved if you submit unverifiable or inauthentic evidence. If the College determines that false representations were made in relation to an application, any related certificates/memberships may be cancelled or revoked and anyone who makes false representations may be subject to legal consequences including fines.
- Hours of work experience applied to a previous application may not be applied towards an application in another trade – except where there is significant overlap in terms of scope of practice overlaps between the trades. Recognized hours credits for trades with recognized overlaps can be found in Appendix C.

- Work experience must be in the practise of a trade – experience must show time spent practising the trade, rather than as a supervisor or a manager, or time spent in school.
- Attestation letters must be written by the signatories—not by you (the applicant) or a third-party—and should be written in a language they are fluent in and then translated if needed.
- Documents must be in English or French – documents in any other language must be translated by a professional translator who is a member of a recognized Canadian association of translators, and both the translated and original documents must be included.

2.3 Additional requirements for certain trades

If you email your application, you must be able to produce original letters of evidence upon request. Any hard-copy documents submitted will not be returned to you.

3. FEES

The fee for Assessments is $235 (plus HST). The fee for Reassessments is $100 (plus HST).

Please note:

- All fees are in Canadian dollars, are non-refundable, and are subject to change.
- Application fees are waived for veterans and reservists of the Canadian Forces.

4. APPLICATION PROCESS

If you meet the skills and experience requirements for your trade and would like to apply for a Trade Equivalency Assessment for the trade, you must complete the following steps:

Step 1: Confirm you meet the requirements for your trade

To be approved, you must provide adequate proof that you have hours of experience and demonstrated skills in your trade that are equal to or exceed the standard of training that an Ontario apprentice receives in completion of an apprenticeship program.

The standard that must be met for each trade is defined by the trade's Training Standard.

To download the Training Standard for your trade, visit: collegeoftrades.ca/training-standards

Step 2: Prepare your application and supporting documents

Ensure your submission includes the following:

- Application form (attached at end of guide—must be complete, signed and dated)
- Assessment fee —$235 plus HST ($265.55) (see section 3—Fees for more information)
- Identification (copy of photo identification—see Appendix A—Identification Guidelines)
- Evidence of on-the-job experience and trade skills (see section 2—Requirements above)
- Proof trade-specific requirements have been met—if applicable (see section 2.3 above)

Please see the 'Requirements' section of this guide (section 2) to ensure you meet the requirements for your trade. Incomplete applications will not be accepted.

Step 3: Submit your application to the College

Submit your completed application with all the required documentation to the College by email, mail/courier, or in-person by using the information at the end of this guide and on the application form. Once your completed application has been received and determined to be complete, the College will process your application fee payment and begin assessing your application. Incomplete applications will not be assessed.

Step 4: The College conducts its assessment

The College will begin conducting a skill and experience assessment based on the documents you provide. Assessments may also include additional verifications of your skills and experience in addition to the documentation you submit with your application:

- Your employer reference(s) will be contacted – the College or a third-party may conduct telephone interviews with your references. Any questions about the background checks should be directed to the College. Three attempts will be made to contact references, and failure to make contact may result in these references not being included in your assessment.
- You may be required to complete one or more interviews – the College may conduct in-person or telephone interviews with you regarding your application. If an interview is required, the College will attempt to accommodate your schedule and your language needs, but failure to participate in a required interview will result in your application being not approved. Any attempt to have another person impersonate you will result in your application being not approved and may make you ineligible to apply in the future.

Once the College completes its assessment, you will be notified in approximately 8 to 10 weeks by email or by mail (if the College does not have a valid email address on your file). Please note that some applications may take longer because of the time it takes to contact references or temporary variations in the number of applications received by the College.

Approved

If your application is approved, you will receive instructions on how to finalize your application for membership and how schedule your certification examination (if applicable, as not all trades require passing an exam to qualify for a Certificate of Qualification).

You will need to first contact the College to pay the $150 (plus HST) C of Q exam fee, then contact a Ministry of Labour, Training and Skills Development (MLTSD) apprenticeship office to schedule your examination attempt: ontario.ca/page/employment-ontario-apprenticeship-offices

For information about examinations, including which trades have certification exams and how to prepare, visit collegeoftrades.ca/resources/exam-process.

Not approved

If your application is not approved, your notification letter will provide the reason(s) and options.

If your trade is compulsory, you will not be permitted to work in your trade until you are either approved under this process or you become a registered apprentice. For more information about starting an apprenticeship, contact the MLTSD using the information at the end of this guide.

You may also apply to have your application reassessed (see the next section for more information).

5. REASSESSMENT

To qualify for a reassessment, you must be able to provide new evidence of skills and experience and/or references in your reassessment application. You must submit a completed Reassessment Application form along with your new evidence and include payment for the reassessment fee of $100 plus HST.

If you qualify, the College will conduct a reassessment of your application. If you do not qualify, you will be informed of the reason(s), which may include, for example, that you were not able to provide new evidence of skills and experience or references or because we cannot verify representations in your application.

If you are successful, you will be approved (see 'Approved' above). If you fail to submit sufficient evidence to satisfy the College's requirements, your application will not be approved, and your file will be closed.

Organizations that offer application support services

There are organizations that may be able to assist with your application. Getting help from one of these organizations will not guarantee that your application will be approved, but it may reduce delays due to potential errors in your application.

The College recognizes the following organizations as having experience assisting individuals with their application preparation:

- Skills for Change (skillsforchange.org) – Immigrant and Refugee support services; Trades Win Support Program
- YMCA (ymca.ca) – Immigrant and Refugee support services offered by some locations. Contact your local YMCA for more information.

APPENDIX A: Identification Requirements

You must submit clear and legible copies of recognized government-issued photo identification with your application.

If you are approved under this process, you will then be required have your identification authenticated by a recognized individual (see “Do I need to authenticate my identification?” below).

Additionally, if your identification is not in either of Canada’s official languages—English or French, it must be translated by a professional translator who is a member of a recognized Canadian association of translators.

What is considered an acceptable identification?

Identification must have been issued by a federal, provincial, territorial, or state government authority and must be valid (not expired). Documents must be original and valid. Photocopies and expired documents are not acceptable. To be acceptable, identification must include legal name, date of birth, photo, and signature.

Which forms of valid identification are acceptable?

The following documents are acceptable forms of identification (if it shows your legal name, date of birth, photo and signature):

- Passport (Canadian or international)
- Canadian Citizenship Card
- Secure Certificate of Indian Status Card
- Canadian Provincial or Territorial driver's license or identification card
- Permanent immigration documents*, including:
 - Permanent Resident Card (PRC)
 - Record of Landing (Form 1000)
 - Confirmation of Permanent Residence (Form IMM 5292)
- Temporary immigration documents*, including:
 - Student Authorization (IMM 1442)
 - Employment Authorization (IMM 1442)
 - Visitor Record (IMM 1442)
 - Temporary Resident's Permit (IMM 1442)
 - Report Pursuant to the Immigration Act (IMM 1442)
 - Single Journey Travel Document (SJTD) for Resettlement to Canada (IMM 5485)

*must be issued by an Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada or Canada Border Services Agency office, Case Processing Centre or Canadian visa office outside Canada.

Do I need to authenticate my identification?

You are not required to provide authenticated identification with your initial application. You will be required to have your identification authenticated only once your trade equivalency application is approved.

How to authenticate my identification?

After your assessment and only if your application is approved, you will be required to authenticate your identification. You will not be eligible to attempt the certification examination or receive College certification until your identification is authenticated as outlined in these guidelines.

The way to authenticate your identification depends on the trade in which you are applying:

- If you are applying for certification in a trade with an examination requirement, you will be required to show original identification in person to the Ministry of Labour, Training and Skills Development (MLTSD) representative who is invigilating your examination on the day you attempt it.

For a list of trades subject to an examination, visit the Exam Process page of the website.

- If you are applying in a trade with no examination requirement, you must show original identification in person to a Canadian notary public or lawyer and it notarized as authentic, and then submit it to the Ontario College of Trades at some point during the application/registration process and before certification/membership will be issued. Identification must be notarized by either:
 - a) Canadian notary public regulated under Canadian provincial/territorial law (for example, the Ontario Notaries Act),
 - b) Lawyer in good standing with a Canadian provincial/territorial law society (for example, the Law Society of Ontario).

If you have questions about authenticating your identification, contact the College by phone at 1-855-299-0028 (Monday-Friday, 8:30am to 5:00pm EST).

Prospective immigrants to Ontario

Please note that applicants are not required to be Canadian citizens or landed immigrants, making it easier for those from outside of Canada to apply for certification in Ontario.

If you are not in Canada to access a Canadian notary public in person, you may still submit your Trade Equivalency Assessment application and your application will be processed—however, Ontario certification or membership will not be issued until you provide authenticated identification as outlined in these guidelines.

If you are having issues authenticating your identification, or for more information on how to start your Trade Equivalency Assessment application before immigrating to Ontario, contact the College at 1-855-299-0028 (Monday-Friday, 8:30am to 5:00pm EST).
